

Bringing Gas to Llanfair Dyffryn Clwyd Update August 2020

Wales & West Utilities [WWU] made an announcement in August 2020 about the works being carried out to lay new gas pipes into Llanfair Dyffryn Clwyd. Following this work, there is an opportunity for homes in the village to connect to this new extension of the gas network.

Due to the way WWU is funded, to start planning to extend the gas network it has to make sure that a high proportion of the local community is interested in connecting – so local people are being urged to register their interest using the forms sent to them.

To register their interest in obtaining a gas supply, they need to return the form sent to them, by post or email to WarmHomeAssistance@wwutilities.co.uk

WWU also operate a Warm Homes Assistance Scheme agreed with Industry Regulator Ofgem where existing domestic properties and communities can potentially benefit from funding towards the cost of the gas mains and services. The scheme is applicable to domestic private households, rental properties and Social Housing properties.

Prompt replies will help WWU determine the level of interest, which is vital as there must be a minimum number of properties interested in a connection before it can proceed. See templates for social media posts.
